CONCERT AND A DRILL

Battalion Makes a Fine Showing: "An Hawaiian Evening" at the School for Girls.

There was a band concert and a military drill and inspection at Kamehameha yesterday afternoon and a large number of town people witnessed the maneuvering of the battalion on the campus after listening to the delightful music of the band. The drill and inspection came under the close attention of President Dole and a number of the officers of the First Regiment, N. G. H. An excellent display was made. The fancy movements especially showed the efficiency of both officers and men. Wooden guns were used.

At night there was an Hawaiian evening in the Kamehameha School for Girls. This was a closing entertainment and the program was of the very highest order. Particularly favored by the audience was the paper "Industries for Hawaiian Women." Many practical suggestions were made. Congratulations are due Miss Ida Pope, who has been so successful and effective in her position as principal of this school. Following was the program:

- Hymn—"Hoomakai ... Hoku Ao Nan Invocation"
- Rev. O. P. Emerson.
- Lord's Prayer.
- Recitation—"Waikiki" ... Maria Mabry.
- Sketch—"Kaahumanu" ... Hattie Awana.
- Song—"Tua i Paakalani" ... Liliuokalani.
- Soio ... Ludia Aholo.
- Kamehameha School for Girls.
- No Iwi o Paia—(A Famous Fish Hook) A Legend told by Mrs. E. M. Nakutina.
- Reproduced by Emma Kaipo.
- Recitation—"Peace" ... M. C. Kittridge.
- Elizabeth Robinson.
- Song—"Pauahi" ... Liliuokalani.
- Kamehameha School for Girls.
- Essay—"Hawaii Nei" ... Helen Desha.
- Recitation—"Hawaii Nei" ... Maria Richmond.
- Solo—"Hawaii Nei" ... Teresa Bowler.
- Rosina Shaw.
- Poem—"Sleep Sweetly Hawaii" ... Philip Dodge.
- Concert Recitation.
- Essay—"Industries for Hawaiian Women" ... Lewa Iokio.
- Miss Iokio received a Certificate of Graduation from the Normal Department.
- Address ... Rev. S. L. Desha.
- Presentation of Certificate.
- Song—"Pauahi Ke Ahi" ... Kamehameha School for Girls.
- K. G. S. Call.
- Benediction ... Rev. S. L. Desha.

PAUHI, KEALII.

(Words and Music by Cordelia Clymer)

I.
Blest type of womanhood,
So true, so pure, so good,
Thy praise we sing;
For bounteous gifts and free
In all around we see
Of what God gave to thee
Full hearts we bring.

II.
Ever thy spirit dear
Dwell in thy people here,
Thou lov'st so well;
Ever thine influence grand,
In youth of thy bright land—
A joyous, loving band—
Most richly dwell.

III.
Pauahi, Kealii,
Loyal we bend to thee,
Queen of our heart;
Alohas loud resound
From all these hills around,
Where'er thy name is found
Where still thou art!

Belagoa Bay Now.
Some of the Portuguese here have read lately in the mother country papers that the home Government would not be likely to at present assist any further immigration to Timor. This is the place so many were anxious to leave Hawaii for a short time ago. The people who want to emigrate from the Paradise of the Pacific are now talking Belagoa bay and want one of the Macao transports to call here and carry them thence. It is said that about 300 families are likely to leave.

Is In the Navy.
The only person in the American Navy with native Hawaiian blood in his veins, and holding rank, is Victor Houston. He is an ensign and graduated at the Naval Academy in Annapolis, Md., several years ago.

He is the son of Capt. Hounston, U. S. N., of Philadelphia, and his mother was Caroline Brickwood, the daughter of the late A. P. Brickwood of this city and for some years postmaster.

Ensign Houston is now serving on the Cuban station.

Terms Ended.
Twenty-three out of the Japanese arrested in Makaweli a little over two months ago and charged with assaulting a luna, were released from jail and sent back to the plantation on the Mikanahala yesterday afternoon. The three remaining in jail are ring leaders, who have one month yet to serve.

GRAND SCENERY.

Colored Views of Yellowstone Park By Mr. Holmes.

A not large, but appreciative audience and one that was well repaid for attendance, greeted Burton Holmes at the Opera House last evening. The illustrated lecture was more than had been claimed for it and there had come in advance notices of the most flattering nature. In the first place, Mr. Holmes is an engaging speaker who knows his ground well. His language is choice, his enunciation clear and his descriptive powers are original and eloquent. The pictures projected upon the screen are magnificent for their clearness of detail and for their coloring, which is little short of are marvelous. Only a few of the views that are already in print are shown. Many of the scenes are in the possession of Mr. Holmes alone. He carried his audience through the great Yellowstone Park in the most natural manner of the character that could be imagined. The action of the geysers was explained. Anecdotes were related, cavalrymen, camping parties, pack outfits and wheeling buffaloes were shown. The pictures of buffalo and deer and the winter sketches were novel. It was all charming.

After Mr. Holmes had concluded in a masterpiece of a narration, motion pictures were shown by Mr. De Pue's cinematograph. These were lively and good.

The second lecture, under the auspices of the Red Cross Society, will be given this evening.

MADE AN ENTRANCE.

American Minister's Residence Visited Last Night.

At about 11:30 o'clock last night word was received at the Police Station that two men entered American Minister Sewall's residence at Waikiki and had been frightened away. Detective Kaapa and a half dozen of his best men hurried to Waikiki at once to investigate.

From the story told at the station it appears that noises were heard in the lower part of the house. The occupants at once went to investigate and two men bolted from the house, ran across the lawn and disappeared into the shrubbery of the next residence. No clear view of them was had, but from their appearance and dress it was thought that they were white men.

Goes to Hilo.

Among the passengers on the Kinau yesterday was Captain Bob Andrews, former master of the steamer Hawaii, now at Hilo. Captain Andrews has severed his connection with the Wilder Steamship Company and will take charge of all the shipping of H. Hackfeld & Co. in Hilo. The new position is a more lucrative one and will give Capt. Andrews better opportunities.

FIRST RED CROSS

Republic of Switzerland Gave it to the World.

THE BATTLE OF SOLFERINO

Insights of Organization—Self-Sacrifice of Its Members—Miss Barton's Amendment.

It is nearly forty years since M. Henri Dunant, a native of the republic of Switzerland, witnessed the battle of Solferino, and was a horrified observer of the unnecessary suffering of the wounded from lack of care. Being greatly impressed by the sight, he published a little book called "Souvenir de Solferino," and pointed out the urgent necessity of forming a corps of surgeons and nurses who could work in the cause of humanity regardless of nationality, and who might be protected by a flag of neutrality, and be permitted to serve on the field of battle and aid the wounded. This little volume appealed to all who read it, and the outcome was a convention held at Geneva, Switzerland, in August, 1864, by representatives from sixteen of the great nations of the world, who then signed a compact of strict neutrality that insured, under certain specified regulations, a complete protection to the members of the association when caring for the wounded on the field of battle. The flag of Switzerland is heraldically described as "on a field gules, a cross argent," and the society adopted it out of compliment to its birthplace, only reversing the colors. Today the insignia of the International Committee is the red cross on a white field, and is the only military hospital flag in the civilized world which protects all persons from molestation who work under it or rightfully wear the emblem when performing their services.

M. Gustav Moynier, President of the Society of Public Utility, was elected and still remains President of the International Committee of the Red Cross, the headquarters of which are at Geneva. Sixty-two nations have signed the compact. In 1882 Miss Clara Barton, who had already distinguished herself by her services as a nurse during the civil war, was delegated by the President of the United States to represent her country, at a congress of the Red Cross Committee, and she was made a member of the International Board of Managers when the United States Government signed the international treaty. It was at Miss Barton's suggestion that a line of work was adopted by the International Committee, so that each nation might pursue an occupation in time of peace that would qualify it to be of service in an emergency, thereby keeping its National Red Cross Association in an active state of organization. It was determined that the study of diseases, methods of treatment, more particularly without the use of alcoholic stimulants, and the education of doctors and nurses should be pursued. In the formation of the constitution of the American National Red Cross Association a still wider range of activities was adopted. It was hoped that should have no wars, but calamities and diseases were always to be apprehended, and the organization determined to provide for such emergencies. Other nations, seeing the usefulness of what has been called the "American amendment," are following our example and adding the amendment to their constitutions. During the past seventeen years the American Red Cross has given aid to sufferers in fifteen disasters or famines, the Russians, Armenians and Cubans being those who have received aid outside of our own countrymen.

But what shall be said of the unprofessional women who, without training or skill, offer themselves as assistants to the Red Cross? It would seem folly to accept their services, and yet the officers of the society base their opinion on the experience gained in the Franco-Prussian war, when the Princess of Prussia and women of all degree offered their services to the Red Cross, and proved of inestimable assistance.

It is difficult to forecast what the duties of an assistant may be, but we may picture one of the scenes that may well take place. A great battle has been fought; the "Red Cross" is called for; bearers begin to carry in the wounded. The country is devastated, smoking ruins show where the homes of the inhabitants once stood; there is no shelter, there are no provisions; the wounded famish for a sip of water, which would poison them if served from the polluted streams about them.

The surgeons and nurses are bending over the wounded, rendering professional aid. The unprofessional worker is now alert, and calls to her aid her housewife's training and looks after the comforts and wants of an emergency household. While the trained nurses have been providing themselves with bandages, lint, etc., the assistant has been loading a small cart with bread, boiled water, tea, coffee, etc., and she hurriedly follows the ambulance corps. A sheet thrown over the branch of a tree makes a shelter, fires are lighted, food is prepared, and the assistant follows the nurses and doctors, feeds the wounded, and gives a woman's gentle aid to the soldier.

It is for this kind of work that the unprofessional women are offering themselves, and no doubt those of America will be found as useful as were the daughters of the German nobility in the Franco-Prussian war.

Mailing Finished.

The Hawaiian Foreign office people yesterday about finished up with the Boys in Blue mail and this was the total of it:
Books, 150; post cards, 249; letters, 5,302; papers, 1,422.
The postage on this mail amounted to $425.

HAWAIIANS CHOSEN.

Native Boys Will Man American Boats.

It is a great many years since Hawaiians have gone to war in any numbers. Now they are going to enter military service to some extent, and that under the flag of the United States.

There has been purchased here for the American Government two of the surf boats used in handling sugar from shore to Island steamers. These will be taken with the collier Brutus, now in port. They will be used in carrying sacked fuel at sea from the collier to the monitor Monterey.

To man these surf boats, two crews of native Hawaiians have been signed. It was concluded after a careful survey of the case, that it would be almost impossible to secure other men who could do the work. Hawaiians who have been in the service of inter-island navigation companies are already fully trained for just such a task as is presented and the natives of the group are known all over the world as the ablest sort of able seamen. Their skill has commanded a premium ever since the earliest whaling times.

Four of these boats were wanted by the American Government, but only the two purchased yesterday could be spared.

Any number of Hawaiians are ready to enlist under the Stars and Stripes for any service.

Aristocratic Nurses.

Miss Helen Long, the daughter of Secretary of the Navy Long, and three of her friends are serving as volunteer nurses without pay at the Naval Hospital in Flushing avenue, Brooklyn. All of these young women came from the Johns Hopkins Hospital of Baltimore. They are held to the same rigid discipline which makes a modern hospital like a military establishment. They have a small laboratory, where, under the direction of the medical staff, they make experiments and prepare medicines.

Mixed Doubles.

The finals in mixed doubles will be played off on the courts of the Beretania tennis courts at 4 p. m. today between Miss Hart and D. Shanks and Miss Ward and W. A. Wall. The matches yesterday were as follows:

Miss Hart and D. Shanks vs. Miss Young and W. H. Babbitt, won by the former team.
Miss Lucy Ward and W. A. Wall vs. Miss May Young and A. St. M. Mackintosh, won by the former.
